

Under the Service Occupation Tax Act, businesses providing services (i.e. servicemen) are taxed on tangible personal property transferred as an incident to sales of service. See 86 Ill. Adm. Code 140.101. (This is a GIL.)

September 9, 2009

Dear Xxxxx:

This letter is in response to your letter dated June 16, 2009, in which you request information. The Department issues two types of letter rulings. Private Letter Rulings ("PLRs") are issued by the Department in response to specific taxpayer inquiries concerning the application of a tax statute or rule to a particular fact situation. A PLR is binding on the Department, but only as to the taxpayer who is the subject of the request for ruling and only to the extent the facts recited in the PLR are correct and complete. Persons seeking PLRs must comply with the procedures for PLRs found in the Department's regulations at 2 Ill. Adm. Code 1200.110. The purpose of a General Information Letter ("GIL") is to direct taxpayers to Department regulations or other sources of information regarding the topic about which they have inquired. A GIL is not a statement of Department policy and is not binding on the Department. See 2 Ill. Adm. Code 1200.120. You may access our website at www.tax.illinois.gov to review regulations, letter rulings and other types of information relevant to your inquiry.

The nature of your inquiry and the information you have provided require that we respond with a GIL. In your letter you have stated and made inquiry as follows:

COMPANY is in the transportation business; we provide freight consolidation services to our customers. We purchase lumbers, pallets and other packing materials to secure our customers' products during the shipment to overseas. Purchase of lumbers and pallets are incidental to the delivery of our customers' products overseas. These materials are neither returnable nor reusable.

According to ILL Regulation Title 86 Part 130 Section 130.2070 b.2, the packing materials and related products are exempt from sales tax.

Please provide the ruling in writing to the address below:

NAME/ADDRESS

Please let me know if you have any questions. Thank you for your cooperation.

DEPARTMENT'S RESPONSE:

Based on the very limited information you provided in your letter, I cannot tell whether the ownership of the lumber, pallets and other packing materials you use to secure your customers' products during shipment are transferred to your company's customers incident to providing that service. This is important to know because it impacts the type of tax liability incurred. For example, if your company transfers title (ownership) of the lumber, pallets and other packing materials to the customer, then your company would look for guidance from the Service Occupation Tax Act. If your company does not transfer ownership, then your company would incur Use Tax whether or not the materials are returnable or reusable. Although I cannot provide you with a specific response to your letter in the context of a General Information Letter, I hope you find the following helpful.

Note, the Illinois Retailers' Occupation Tax Act imposes a tax upon persons engaged in this State in the business of selling tangible personal property to purchasers for use or consumption. See 86 Ill. Adm. Code 130.101. In Illinois, Use Tax is imposed on the privilege of using, in this State, any kind of tangible personal property that is purchased anywhere at retail from a retailer. See 86 Ill. Adm. Code 150.101. These taxes comprise what is commonly known as "sales" tax in Illinois.

Illinois Retailers' Occupation and Use Taxes do not apply to sales of service that do not involve the transfer of tangible personal property to customers. However, if tangible personal property is transferred incident to sales of service, this will result in either Service Occupation Tax liability or Use Tax liability for the servicemen depending upon his activities. For your general information see of 86 Ill. Adm. Code 140.101 through 140.109 regarding sales of service and Service Occupation Tax. See also 86 Ill. Adm. Code 130.2070(b)(2) which provides in part:

Although sales of containers to purchasers who retransfer such containers to others as an incident to engaging in a service occupation are not subject to the Retailers' Occupation Tax, such transactions are governed by the Service Occupation Tax Act.

Under the Service Occupation Tax Act, businesses providing services (i.e. servicemen) are taxed on tangible personal property transferred as an incident to sales of service. See 86 Ill. Adm. Code 140.101. The purchase of tangible personal property that is transferred to the service customer may result in either Service Occupation Tax liability or Use Tax liability for the servicemen depending upon his activities. The serviceman's liability may be calculated in one of four ways: (1) separately stated selling price of tangible personal property transferred incident to service; (2) 50% of the servicemen's entire bill; (3) Service Occupation Tax on the servicemen's cost price if the servicemen are registered de minimis servicemen; or (4) Use Tax on the servicemen's cost price if the servicemen are de minimis and are not otherwise required to be registered under Section 2a of the Retailers' Occupation Tax Act.

Using the first method, servicemen may separately state the selling price of each item transferred as a result of the sale of service. The tax is then calculated on the separately-stated selling price of the tangible personal property transferred. If the servicemen do not separately state the selling price of the tangible personal property transferred, they must use 50% of the entire bill to the service customer as the tax base. Both of the above methods provide that in no event may the tax base be less than the servicemen's cost price of the tangible personal property transferred. See 86 Ill. Adm. Code 140.106.

The third way servicemen may account for their tax liability only applies to de minimis servicemen who have either chosen to be registered or are required to be registered because they incur Retailers' Occupation Tax liability with respect to a portion of their business. See 86 Ill. Adm. Code 140.109. Servicemen may qualify as de minimis if they determine that the annual aggregate cost price of tangible personal property transferred as an incident of the sale of service is less than 35% of the total annual gross receipts from service transactions (75% in the case of pharmacists and persons engaged in graphics arts production). Servicemen no longer have the option of determining whether they are de minimis using a transaction by transaction basis. Registered de minimis servicemen are authorized to pay Service Occupation Tax (which includes local taxes) based upon their cost price of tangible personal property transferred incident to the sale of service. Such servicemen should give suppliers resale certificates and remit Service Occupation Tax using the Service Occupation Tax rates for their locations. Such servicemen also collect a corresponding amount of Service Use Tax from their customers, absent an exemption.

The final method of determining tax liability may be used by de minimis servicemen that are not otherwise required to be registered under Section 2a of the Retailers' Occupation Tax Act. Such de minimis servicemen handle their tax liability by paying Use Tax to their suppliers. If their suppliers are not registered to collect and remit tax, the servicemen must register, self-assess and remit Use Tax to the Department. The servicemen are considered to be the end-users of the tangible personal property transferred incident to service. Consequently, they are not authorized to collect a "tax" from the service customers. See 86 Ill. Adm. Code 140.108.

Accordingly, if the ownership of the lumber, pallets and other packing materials is transferred to customers incident to providing services to those service customers, then those transactions would be governed by the Service Occupation Tax Act, as discussed above. However, if ownership is not transferred to the customers, then the company would incur a Use Tax liability, whether the materials are returned or reused.

I hope this information is helpful. If you require additional information, please visit our website at www.tax.illinois.gov or contact the Department's Taxpayer Information Division at (217) 782-3336.

Very truly yours,
