Schedule 80/20 Instructions

General Information

Illinois law states that a unitary business group may not include any company that conducts 80 percent or more of its business outside of the United States. Domestic unitary members often use 80/20 companies as a means of reducing their Illinois income by paying what would normally be considered valid deductions, such as interest, royalties, and other “intangible expenses” to an 80/20 company that Illinois cannot tax.

Effective for tax years ending on or after December 31, 2004, you may not deduct some interest or “intangible expenses” from transactions with an 80/20 company. All interest and intangible expenses you deducted federally, that are in excess of any taxable dividends you received from the 80/20 company must be added back, unless an exception applies (see Specific Instructions).

You will be allowed to subtract the amount of taxable interest and dividend income you received from the 80/20 company, up to the amount of federally deductible interest or intangible asset income you received from that 80/20 company that is added back, unless an exception applies (see Specific Instructions).

What is the purpose of Illinois Schedule 80/20?

Illinois Schedule 80/20 provides the following calculations:

- to figure the amount of deductions the domestic unitary member must add back to its income;
- to allow the domestic unitary member to figure the correct amount of allowable, valid deductions; and
- to allow any 80/20 company with an Illinois filing requirement to take a deduction for the expenses on which the domestic company is being taxed.

Note → If you have more than three 80/20 companies to report, and additional space is needed, complete and attach additional Illinois Schedules 80/20. Report the totals in Column D of the last page.

Definitions

An “80/20 company” means any taxpayer who would be a member of a unitary business group with you, if not for the fact that 80 percent or more of its business activities are conducted outside the United States. For more information, see the section on the “80/20 rule” in “What is a unitary business group” in the instructions to the Schedule UB, Combined Apportionment for Unitary Business Group.

“Intangible expenses” means royalties and fees paid for intangible assets, losses incurred on sales or other dispositions of intangible assets to an 80/20 company, losses on factoring or discounting transactions with an 80/20 company, and deductible expenses incurred in connection with the acquisition, use, management, or sale or other disposition of an intangible asset.

“Intangible assets” include patents, patent applications, trade names, trademarks, service marks, copyrights, mask works, trade secrets, and similar types of intangible property.

“Related party” means

- a brother, sister, spouse, ancestor or lineal descendant of an individual;

Unitary business groups

If you are a member of a unitary business group, one Illinois Schedule 80/20 should be completed for the entire group. Complete Illinois Schedule 80/20 showing in the column for each 80/20 company all of the disallowed interest and intangible expense deductions paid by all members of the unitary business group to the 80/20 company, or all of the interest, intangible asset income, and dividends received by every member of the unitary business group from the 80/20 company. Members of the unitary business group who do not join in a combined return should attach a copy of the unitary Illinois Schedule 80/20 to their separate returns.

80/20 companies that received interest or intangible asset income from more than one member of a unitary business group should report these amounts as if received from a single person.
